STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

There is a long standing need for the regulation of the profession and practice of pharmacy in Indian medicine and Homoeopathy. The education and practice of pharmacy in Indian medicine and Homoeopathy was identified as a priority area by the Central Government in the IXth Five Year Plan.

2. The conference of the State Health Ministers on Indian Medicine and Homoeopathy in the meeting held in February 1997 and the National Convention on Homoeopathy dated 17th-18th November 1997 resolved that the Central Government should take adequate steps to introduce organised training courses to train the pharmacists in Indian medicine and Homoeopathy. These courses will give them an opportunity for professionalism in pharmacy and also enable them to undertake fundamental research and development of drugs in Indian medicine and Homoeopathy. This is also considered essential to bring standardisation in the field of manufacturing medicines.

3. In order to achieve the above object, the Indian medicine and Homoeopathy Pharmacy Bill, 2005 provides for constitution of a Central Pharmacy Council of Indian medicine and Homoeopathy which will bring uniformity and standardisation in education and practice of the Pharmacy in Indian medicine and Homoeopathy. Permission of Central Government will be necessary for opening a new college, to increase seats and start a new higher course of study of pharmacy in Indian medicine and Homoeopathy. Institutions admitting students without prior permission will be penalised. The proposed legislation also provides for maintaining a register of pharmacists in Indian medicine and Homoeopathy. Persons whose names are borne in the State register shall only be allowed to practice pharmacy in Ayurveda, Homoeopathy, Unani and Siddha after the enforcement of the proposed law. The pharmacy qualification granted by any university, board or other institutions in India which are included in the Schedule shall be the recognised pharmacy qualifications.

4. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objects.
